

company profile

A World Class Leader In Business Product Distribution

As a leading distributor of business products within the document management, professional video and display segment, PanSolutions is here for business and we are well-positioned to offer your business the edge. Years of working with many leading companies has given us a birds eye view of what good companies do better, enabling us to fine-tune our offering and innovate.

Providing a comprehensive range of business hardware combined with state-of-the-art software applications, PanSolutions offers powerful tools to optimise your output. Through the services of highly qualified Office Automation dealers, integrators and specialised partners, PanSolutions service bridges the gap between technology and business to offer a great deal more than... Copy. Fax. Print. Scan.

PanSolutions has a credible history spanning many years as a business leader, serving the needs of South Africa's top companies. The company began life as Panasonic in the mid-80s and to this day remains the authorised distributor for Panasonic business products, while adding a multitude of outstanding brands and systems to its offering. Chief among these is Kyocera Document Solutions – for whom PanSolutions is an authorised distributor. The relationship with these two global giants gives PanSolutions the means to offer its customers the best technology and devices available, leveraged by our turnkey service and solutions.
